Introduction	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Whenever I think back over what happened last Friday, I feel so unreal and unbelievable. - was timid since I was a child - I never had the courage to start conversations with friends on our first meet, not to mention standing on the stage in front of a hall of people. - doing a performance in front of others was beyond my imagination
Body	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - My sister, Kelly, is all teachers' favourite student in our school. - always gets excellent grades in her studies and is good at playing the piano - I wish I could be like her. - she cares about me a lot and wants to help me gain self-confidence - asked me to join the inter-school singing competition with her so that I could be the vocal and she could play the piano - The thought of performing in front of the 'strangers' almost made me faint. - got angry because she asked me to do something I hated so much - She promised me that she would help me build the self-confidence of standing in the spotlight before the competition started. - I was moved and finally agreed to her suggestion.
Closing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The day finally came. - felt surprised to see my parents sitting in the crowd - full of energy with Kelly at my back and my parents in my front - got the first runner-up - so grateful to have such an encouraging family
