Greeting	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Honourable adjudicators, principal, teachers and fellow students,
Introduction	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Today, our debate motion is ‘It is more important to have inner beauty than outer beauty.’ - Inner beauty can be defined as ‘good personality and mind’ while outer beauty can be defined as ‘good appearance and look’. - Nowadays, more and more people pursue good look. Some of them even undergo plastic surgeries just to look younger, slimmer and prettier. - Our team strongly supports the motion and will give our argument as follows.
Body	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Opposing team may argue that outer beauty is important in terms of first impressions because people tend to be attracted to good physical appearance first. - However, such a good physical image can be achieved through money. It has only short-term effects because people would not trust a person with evil thoughts and bad personalities even though he or she is beautiful. - Inner beauty is long-lasting and can only be achieved through personal effort. - Inner beauty will not age. - build up good reputation - act as a role model for others - gain popularity - People with inner beauty can be reliable friends, but people with only outer beauty will not have long-lasting relationships with others.
Conclusion	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - It is more important to have inner beauty than outer beauty. - Thank you.
