Dear Jarvis,

How are you getting on?

Last Sunday, I went to watch Alan Kwok's concert. It was the fourth time I had watched his concert. It was fantastic! He started the concert with his classic disco dance songs. When he was dancing on stage, viewers also began to move their bodies to the music. The music and his dance steps were perfect. We were all happy!

Next, there was a special section showing Alan's talents for both music and acting. He first sang a number of love songs. Then he acted with an actress on stage, trying to show the audience a love story between a fisherman and a princess. I was so moved that I could not hold back my tears. Everyone clapped their hands for his excellent performance.

At the end of the concert, Alan thanked everyone who had helped with the concert and promised to bring us another great show next time. I think he is a really hard-working man. I want to be an artist like him in the future.

How's your school life? Hope to hear from you soon.

Best wishes,
Edward
