Today is my third day here in Tokyo. My family and I had a great time shopping and visiting different tourist spots.

First, we visited the Tokyo Tower. The tower was enormous. When I arrived at the top floor, my legs couldn't stop shaking. However, the view was beautiful!

Then, we went to Ginza District. It is an area full of different kinds of shops. Mum jumped for joy when she saw all the stores along the streets. After shopping, we had lunch at a local restaurant. We ordered sushi, seafood udon, roast beef and some vegetables. I also tried raw octopus. It was very fresh and delicious!

We also visited Ueno Park and Ueno Zoo. There were over 2,600 animals there. I was very surprised to see pandas there! I thought we could only see them in China.

Lastly, we visited the National Museum of Nature and Science. People also called it the Tokyo Museum. It took us only 10 minutes to get there from Ueno Park. We saw many interesting exhibits like dinosaur skeletons and plane models! We were all very amazed!

After such a long day, we felt tired but we were very happy because we had a lot of fun. Tomorrow, we will visit traditional Japanese houses and relax in hot springs. I can't wait!
