Macy is reading an article about getting better sleep. Read it carefully and choose the best answers for Questions 23-28.

How to Get Quality Sleep

Humans spend an average of 26 years sleeping in their entire life. It is important to have a good sleep to prepare for a whole day of study and work. However, some people may find it difficult to sleep well. If you are suffering as well, read the following tips to sleep better.

(i)

First, your sleep environment can affect your sleep. Different people prefer different sleep environments. A dark and quiet place is suitable for most people to sleep as it clears their mind and prepares them for a good night's sleep. However, some may find dark places so scary that they can hardly fall asleep. They may feel more comfortable sleeping with soft light and music. There is no standard answer to where to have a good sleep as long as you find a place that makes you feel more relaxed.

(ii)

As technology has advanced in recent years, we constantly use smartphones to scroll through websites and social media. The excitement aroused from watching videos or playing mobile games causes rapid brain activities and hence difficulty in sleeping. Keeping yourself calm and relaxed can help you get to sleep. Therefore, it is better to do some breathing exercises than playing with your phone one to two hours before you go to bed.

(iii)

Some people said sleeping earlier can also help you sleep better. But this may not be the case. A study shows that sleeping early may not ensure better sleep, but having a regular sleeping habit, which includes a regular time to get to sleep and regular hours of sleep. Your body would remember your usual resting time and work to repair organs and cells regularly. This benefits your sleeping quality as well as health.

(iv)

To sum up, when and where you sleep and what you do before bed can affect your sleeping quality. Therefore, it is important to develop good sleeping habits. You will definitely get recharged and become energetic if you sleep well.

(B-2)

23. Why does the writer say 'you are suffering as well' in paragraph 1?
- A. People may find it difficult to have a good night's sleep.

- A. They frighten some people.
 - B. They clear people's minds.
 - C. They relax people.
 - D. They help people concentrate.
25. The example of doing breathing exercises in paragraph 3 is to _____.
- A. avoid oneself from playing smartphone
 - B. relax oneself
 - C. ensure better sleep
 - D. activate one's brain
26. According to a study, _____ may NOT be enough for having a good sleep.
- A. waking up late
 - B. having a regular sleeping time
 - C. sleeping earlier
 - D. sleeping in quiet places
27. What is the main purpose of the article?
- A. To raise a problem
 - B. To give advice
 - C. To introduce a study
 - D. To argue an issue
28. Match the following headings with paragraphs (i) to (iv) on P.4. Write A, B, C or D in the in the answer booklet.

Macy is writing a blog entry about a zoo visit. Read it carefully and choose the best answers for Questions 29-35.

Amazing Zoo

The new zoo is finally open in Hong Kong. I am so excited because I am an animal lover! As my younger brother Matt's birthday is coming, my parents brought us to the zoo to have some fun. Matt was very happy as he has never been to a zoo before.

We arrived at the zoo at noon. As we were buying tickets at the entrance, we were told that each of us could get a sticker pack as a souvenir. Matt was walking on air when he heard about that. After getting our tickets, I wanted to see the elephants. But Mum suggested we should watch the bird show first as it was the only show that day.

When we were walking to the Bird Paradise, we heard a melodic piece of music from an ice cream car. Dad bought Matt and I an ice cream each. It was my favourite chocolate ice cream. Then we watched the bird show. I did not expect much from the show, but it was surprisingly good. I had no idea that birds could do lots of tricks. Some even solved mathematical problems. The audience uttered excited exclamations when the birds performed.

Let's take a look at that day's photos. The first one is the dim sum dishes we had as breakfast before going to the zoo. They were all delicious! Dad took the next photo of Matt and I feeding some bananas to an elephant after watching the bird show. Here is the last one, which I like most! It was taken at the entrance of our last stop, also my most memorable stop, the Penguin Land. In the photo, Mum is standing behind me and making a silly face. Dad is standing behind Matt and putting his thumb up. Both Matt and I are holding penguin dolls that Mum bought us. I like the doll so much! I hope we can go to the zoo again next time.
