

Read the postcard.

22 August 20XX

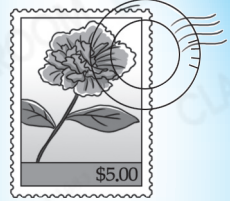

Dear Fanny,

How is your holiday? I am here in Thailand with my parents. We are having so much fun.

I learned about an interesting festival here today. It is the Monkey Festival. People of the town of Lopburi celebrate the festival every year in November. On that day, the town prepares a big buffet for the monkeys. Cooks from top hotels make food for them: sausages, eggs, fresh fruit, ice cream and jelly! People think that giving food to the monkeys may bring them good luck.

I am going to Malaysia tomorrow. Talk to you later.

Love,
Karen

To: Fanny Wong
5/F Sun Building
9 Nathan Road
Mong Kok
Hong Kong

BY AIR MAIL

Test your understanding.

- Where was Karen when she wrote the postcard?
 - A. Japan
 - B. Hong Kong
 - C. Thailand
 - D. Malaysia
- Why do people prepare a buffet for the monkeys?
 - A. The monkeys are lovely.
 - B. This brings them good luck.
 - C. They have too much food.
 - D. They want to make money.
- What does 'them' in line 12 refer to?
 - A. the cooks
 - B. the hotels
 - C. the monkeys
 - D. the town people
- Read line 10. The 'fresh fruit' most likely means _____.
 - A. bananas
 - B. oranges
 - C. lemons
 - D. strawberries