Who opened the first KFC restaurant?

Harland Sanders was born in 1890 in the USA. His father died when he was six. He had to take care of his younger brother and sister while his mother went to work. Having to do much of the family cooking, Sanders became an excellent cook at the young age of seven. 5

Over the years, Sanders did many different jobs. When he was 40, he worked at a gas station in Kentucky. He began to cook for people stopping at the gas station. Soon people started coming just for his food. Sanders decided to open his first restaurant.

Sanders was famous for his fried chicken. Many people loved it. 10
He opened more and more restaurants, and his face became part of the KFC's logo.
