

Read the interview.

John : Hello everyone. Welcome to Saturday Night Live. We have Rosa here with us. She is an American reporter who has visited many places in China. She is living in Hong Kong at the moment. Hello, Rosa. Thanks for coming.

Rosa : Hello everyone. Thank you for inviting me to the show, John.

John : Rosa, tell us where you have visited for the past three years. 5

Rosa : The first place I went to was Sichuan. It has a beautiful natural environment. Then I went to Shanghai. It was a modern city. After that, I went to Beijing to watch the Olympics.

John : How do you feel about Hong Kong then?

Rosa : The people here are all very nice. They teach me Chinese and I can speak the language quite well now. The food is tasty. I love the noodles. In America, I eat hamburgers all the 10 time!

John : Why did you choose to live in Hong Kong?

Rosa : Because Hong Kong is a city full of energy, just like New York. There are people from different countries and it is interesting to talk to them. There are also a lot of things that are different from America. People love going to Chinese restaurants to meet family and 15 friends every weekend. In America, we usually meet family in festivals like Thanksgiving.

John : I'm glad you enjoy your life in Hong Kong!
