The Magic Tree
By Kelly Ku

This is an interesting story about a 10-year-old boy, Tim, who had a magic tree in his garden. At the time when Tim was born, his grandma planted a tree in the garden of their house. Ten years later, the tree grew to be very tall. One night, the typhoon number 8 signal was hoisted. Tim was afraid that the strong wind would break the tree. He went to the garden in the rain and tied the tree to the house. Just when Tim went back into the house, Tim heard a voice, 'Thank you!' But no one was in the garden. Where did the voice come from?
