

Read the poem.

Colourful flowers grow everywhere.
The little drops of rain fall on the ground.
The smell of fresh grass fills the air.
Bees and butterflies dance around.

In the sky, the sun shines so bright.
The air conditioner is on because of the heat.
Having an ice cream feels just right,
But it melts before we start to eat.

The sun hides for most of the time.
Leaves turn red and fall.
Flying a kite is fun in this cool dry time.
'Let's have a barbecue!' my friends call.

Cold wind begins to blow.
It is freezing so put on a coat.
In some places, there is even snow!
It is time to see Santa in his big red coat.
