Around the World ⑩ : Weather

By Peter Smith

Peter Smith has been travelling around the world alone since he was 15. In the last book of the Around the World series, Smith writes about the fascinating weather of different parts of the world. Smith also took amazing photos of different weather conditions such as cloudless days, rainy days and stormy days.

In this book, you will find:

- * Clear tables and charts showing weather around the world
- * A world map that shows the temperatures of different places
- * Interesting stories about Smith's travel
- * Over 100 colourful photos
