- What was he / she doing?
- How did he / she look?

steal / shocked

- What was the problem?
- How did you feel?

- How was it solved?
- What was the result?

Pre-writing

S A good ending can always make a piece of writing more impressive. It is important to know the ways to create an interesting one. Below are some of the ways.

e.g.

Ending	Examples
 happy ending	Luckily, the car stopped just in time. The little dog was not hurt.
 sad ending	Unluckily, the little dog was hit by the car and was sent to hospital.
 lesson learnt	After this incident, I have learnt that helping others is a really respectful thing to do.

Warm Up

Complete the story by writing an ending. (15 marks)

A Shocking Morning

Yesterday, I witnessed a theft when my parents and I were having breakfast at a Chinese restaurant. The old woman sitting next to us went to get dim sum and left her bag on the table. Then a young woman wearing a mask and a cap came closer to our table. She looked suspicious.

She stole the old woman's bag and ran out of the restaurant. We were so shocked. _____
