

Conversation

Wendy is reading a story about John.

(John is naughty. Today, he rolls his small ball under his chair during the English lesson.)

Teacher: John, what are you doing?

John: I want to pick up my ball. It's rolling towards the bookshelf.

Teacher: Not now, boy. Sit properly please.

(At recess)

John: Let me look for my treasure ball. Oh! My ball changes into seven colours!

*(When John touches the ball, he becomes a small person.
He is small like an ant!)*

Fairy: Welcome to the Book Kingdom!

John: Book Kingdom? I hate reading. I like playing ball games only.

Fairy: This book is about ball games. You can learn how to pass a ball, throw a ball, catch a ball and roll a ball!

John: Really? I must read the book! Thank you.
