

Grandma is reading a letter from Henry.

Dear Grandma,

How are you? I study in Kowloon Bay now. I go to school by MTR every morning because my school is next to the MTR station. However, I don't like how some passengers behave.

When I wait for the MTR on the platform, I always stand behind the yellow line but some people stand near the screen doors. It is very dangerous. When the MTR arrives, some passengers jump the queue. They make me very angry. I think they should follow the rules and care for others.

On the MTR, there are some red seats for people in need. I give up my seat when I see an old man or woman. I really want to be a good child.

Do you travel by train in Canada? Can you tell me more about the rules of the public transport there? 😊

Love,
Henry
