

Andy is reading his diary about Parents' Day.

Cloudy

Thursday, 8th February, 20XX

I did not sleep well last night because today was Parents' Day. I woke up very early in the morning before the alarm clock rang. At that moment, I did not want to go to school. My heart was as grey as the weather today.

On the way to school, Mum talked to me but I just kept silent. When I walked up the staircases, I was very worried about what Miss Leung was going to say to Mum. I was also afraid that my class position would fall. Luckily, Miss Leung told Mum that I was a well-behaved student with excellent results. When I heard that, I felt like a bird in the sky. Mum was also very pleased.

To celebrate, Mum and I went to have a Korean barbecue tonight. Dad was working late at his office so he could not join the dinner. What a pity! Later, we saw an ice cream van on the street so we had dessert too. As I'm turning nine years old next month, Mum also promised to bring me to Ocean Park. It's a nice day today!

I think I should be more confident in myself in the future. After all, I have tried my best!
