1. The name of the book: The Boy Who Cried 'Wolf'

5 2. Summary:

Once upon a time, a boy called Peter lived in a village. Peter looked after the villagers' sheep every day, but he found the job very boring. One day, he came up with a strange idea. He climbed up a tree and cried, 'Wolf! Wolf!'

10 The villagers heard him shouting so they took their axes immediately. When they got to the meadow, they found that Peter was laughing on a tree and the sheep were eating quietly.

15 The next day, Peter really saw a wolf in the meadow. He cried loudly, 'Help! A wolf is here!' However, nobody believed him this time. The wolf ate two sheep and Peter got hurt when he was trying to escape.

20 3. My comments:

I think the book is inspiring because it teaches us a moral lesson through a simple story. It tells us that lying always comes with some consequences.
