2. Dear Editor,

I am writing to draw everyone's attention to the problem of air pollution in our city.

Air pollution from motor vehicles is a big problem. There are too many cars on roads and they produce a lot of air pollutants. I have to cover my nose and mouth with my handkerchief when I go to areas with heavy traffic. Also, the production of electricity makes the air even dirtier. The polluted air harms people's health. It is time for us to work together to get rid of it!

The first step we can take to clean the air is to take public transport. Secondly, we should try our best to save electricity. For example, the temperature on buses should be set at 25°C or above. The government should also do their part by educating the public.

We should all do something to help solve the problem. It can make a big difference!

The Courageous Lion King ★★☆☆☆

The Lion King is one of Disney's most popular animated films. This excellent animation was matched with a new soundtrack and re-mastered for the IMAX screen.

The Lion King is about how a lion cub Simba turns into an adult and accepts his destiny. Simba begins his life as a prince, the son of powerful King Mufasa. However, his happy childhood turns tragic when his evil uncle Scar kills his father and drives Simba out of the kingdom. Later, Simba makes friends with Pumbaa and Timon. As Simba gets near adulthood, he is visited by the spirit of his father. He encourages Simba to be courageous and guides Simba to get back the kingdom.

Watching The Lion King, which was a 3D animation, was an impressive experience to me. My favourite was the music. It stayed with me even after I left the cinema. I was also touched by the plot. There were moments of laughter as well as tears in the film. I think it is the best animated film I've ever watched.

2. Underline the writer's comments on the music of the film.

A My Terrible Day

I will never forget the day when I was bullied. Last Monday, some mean and rude boys in my class pushed me in the park. They also hid my belongings and called me names.

I was too scared to go to school the following days, so I told Mum I felt sick in order to stay at home. However, Mum got anxious and took me to a doctor. She felt worried when the doctor could not find anything wrong with me.

I was too afraid to seek help from my teachers and parents because the bullies warned me not to do so. Luckily, my friend Ada offered to help me report to the social worker. She encouraged me to talk to my parents too.

When Mum and Dad knew that I was bullied, they comforted me and talked to my class teacher. The problem is now solved. I want to thank Ada for her support and I promise not to hide my worries to myself from now on.

B The Mean Cat

Once upon a time, there was a fat mean cat called Macy in the park, who always said rude things to the little puppy Husk. 'Hi, short legs, you crossed my territory.' 'I'm sorry,' said Husk. 'It's not enough to say sorry,' said Macy when she scratched Husk with her sharp claws.

'Weak puppy, I'm stronger than you're,' said Macy. Day by day, Husk was too scared to see her in the park. Believing that he was weaker than Macy, he caught her rats and fish as she told him to.

Year after year, Husk became a big dog, but he was still too afraid to see Macy, the big bully. One day, Macy stopped him on the road and shouted, 'You weak animal!' Husk stepped backward and said, 'Please don't hurt me!' But Macy hurt Husk again with her claws.

A rooster saw this and said to Husk, 'Look at yourself! You're a strong dog. Fight back!' Husk saw himself from the reflection in the puddle. He walked towards Macy and barked at her madly, 'Woof... Woof... Woof!' Macy was trembling as she ran away.

'All you have to do is to trust yourself!' said the rooster to Husk.
