New Learning Experience in Hong Kong's Museums

If you want to have a deeper understanding of a city from different aspects, you should visit the museums there! Read this book to find articles introducing half a dozen of the museums in Hong Kong, including:

Hong Kong Museum of History

The Hong Kong Museum of History tells you the past and present of Hong Kong through multimodal exhibitions presented in the forms of exhibits, graphic panels and multimedia programmes. Although Hong Kong is now a world-renowned financial centre, it was a small fishing village in the old days. Travel back in time and see the changes of the city here.

Hong Kong Maritime Museum

The Hong Kong Maritime Museum is right next to Victoria Harbour on Central Pier. It is special because it is the only museum where you can spice up your day with educational exhibitions and the breathtaking view of the harbour at the same time! You can also learn more about maritime trading with the interactive models here. Don't forget to visit the new ship bridge simulator and try to steer a ship! If you feel tired, you can go to the rooftop café to take a rest too.

Taxi Driver Saves American Tourist

By Nora Cheung

A taxi driver saved an American tourist from being hit by a car yesterday afternoon.

Billy Jones, a 25-year-old American, came to Hong Kong with his girlfriend three days ago. Yesterday at noon, Jones and his girlfriend left the hotel and planned to go to the Peak. Although Jones felt sick when they were walking to the Peak Tram station, they did not drop their plan. When Jones was crossing a road, he suddenly fell over and became unconscious. When a car was about to hit him, Wong, a 40-year-old taxi driver, saw this. Wong got out of his taxi quickly and helped move Jones to a safe place. He then sent Jones to the nearest hospital.

Dr Tam Wu from the hospital said, 'Mr Jones had heatstroke as he sweated a lot and didn't drink enough water. Remember to drink more water on hot summer days.'

- When did Jones and his girlfriend arrive in Hong Kong?
  - A. on 22nd July
  - B. on 23rd July
  - C. on 24th July
  - D. on 25th July
- What was Jones doing when he fell over?
  - A. waiting for a taxi
  - B. getting on the Peak Tram
  - C. crossing a road
  - D. getting out of a taxi
- Jones fell over because _____.
  - A. the weather was too hot
  - B. he walked too fast
  - C. he drank too much water
  - D. he did not sleep well the night before
- How did Wong help Jones?

Besides 'because,' we can also use 'as' to give reasons.

My Stay in Hong Kong

People here, people there, people everywhere.
They fought over seats and parking spaces but I didn't care.
I hated sweating in the narrow and busy streets,
So I stayed indoors to avoid the heat. 5

I enjoyed the delicious food and drinks at every corner,
And also the beautiful night view of the harbour.
It was a waste of time sleeping,
So I spent my second day eating and shopping.

Riding on the cable car, playing in the sun, 10
And watching the pandas were so much fun.
It was the most enjoyable day of my stay.
I am leaving with joyful memories in a few more days.
