Carol is reading a fable about Ronny the Bunny.

The Perfect Teeth

Ronny the Bunny hated his two big teeth. One day, he asked a witch to help him take them away with her amazing magical powers. The witch wanted a hundred Easter eggs in return. 'No problem!' Ronny said.

The next day, Ronny ran into the forest and found all the eggs quickly. He was too hungry so he ate half of them. He then brought fifty eggs to the witch. 'Ronny, I asked for one hundred eggs,' the witch said unhappily. 'I don't care! Just take away my teeth now!' Ronny shouted.

The witch was disappointed. 'You only did half of what you promised,' she waved her magic wand and said, 'so I'm giving you half of what you wanted.' Suddenly, one of Ronny's teeth began to disappear. 'No! Stop it! Having only one big tooth is even worse than before!' Ronny was so scared that he screamed loudly. 'It is important to keep your promise,' the witch said calmly. Ronny learnt a lesson and he hopped away in tears.
