

Cherry is writing a diary entry.

21st May (Tuesday)

Sunny

Today, I met three international students. Miguel is Spanish. He told me about bullfighting. It is a popular event in Spain and it involves a matador carrying a red flag and fighting with an angry bull. The bull will be dead in the end. It sounds very cruel!

Anne is from Britain. She told me that the British like to dunk biscuits in tea before eating them. They think biscuits taste better this way.

I also met Amber from Korea. She told me that writing people's names in the colour red means bad luck in Korea because people usually use red ink to write the names of the dead.

I am glad I met these nice friends. It is such a great opportunity to learn more about different cultures! I can't wait to go on an outing with them tomorrow!
