

In-text Grammar

We can put prepositions such as 'at', 'of', 'to' and 'with' after certain verbs to talk about actions.

e.g. Oscar gets on with his sister.

e.g. We should never laugh at our classmates.

More examples:

smile at shout at

take care of beware of talk to listen to help with play with

Christy is reading a magazine article about good deeds.

Good People, Good Deeds

Read and share these heartwarming real-life stories with your friends!

An elderly woman called Chan Siu-mui got lost in Tung Chung on her way to her daughter's home. Two teenage boys spent hours taking care of her and carrying her back to her home in Tai O.

Chan is so grateful for the boys' help so she wants to do something to thank them.

A girl named Molly donated one of her kidneys to save Chow Sin-ting, a dying mother. 'I hope the public can give active support for organ donation,' said Molly.

Wong Hoi-ming's restaurant in Mong Kok offers the poor meals at affordable prices. On some days of the year, the caring owner even let the homeless eat free.

Wong and his employees are preparing meals for the poor.

Wong's kindness moved some citizens and they sponsored him. 'I want the poor to at least have enough food to eat. I know how being poor is like,' said Wong. 'For those who share the same thoughts with me, I hope they can join me,' he added.

Choose the best answers by blackening the circles.

skill 1. If Chan Siu-mui saw the two teenage boys again, she might _____.

- A. treat them to food and drinks
 B. ask them to help her again
 C. ask them not to visit Tung Chung
 D. help them get home

Q1

How did the elderly woman feel about the boys' action?

2. Wong Hoi-ming gave out free meals to the poor because _____.

- A. he wanted people to sponsor him
 B. he wanted to move Hong Kong citizens
 C. he did not want them to suffer from hunger
 D. he wanted to ask more people to join him in helping the poor skill 3. Christy is moved by the stories. She may NOT _____ after reading the magazine article.

- A. register her wish to donate organs after death
 B. go to Tung Chung to help people who get lost
 C. volunteer to help Wong Hoi-ming give out free lunch boxes
 D. share the stories with her friends

Fill in the blanks with the correct words.

4. What kind of medical illness did Chow Sin-ting have?

She had problems with her _____.

Q4

Which organ did Chow receive?

5. In line 26, what does the word 'they' refer to?

It refers to _____ Fill in each blank with ONE word from the magazine article. Change the word form when necessary.

Local hospitals recorded increases in organ 6 _____ (n.) rates after the story of the 7 _____ (adj.) mother had spread in the city. Molly Cheng's selfless act 8 _____ (v.) a lot of people.