

Iggy is reading his farewell speech.

Good morning, teachers, parents and fellow schoolmates. I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to our teachers.

Miss Cheng, thank you for teaching me to open up to people. I was shy at first and didn't have many friends. After your encouragement, I gained confidence and began to build friendships with others. I'm thankful to Mr Johnson as well. When I was frustrated with the result of my oral exam, you taught me not to give up easily but to keep practising and trying. Now I can give a speech in English without making errors. Miss Ho, thank you for teaching me how to control my temper. I'd also like to thank all the other teachers who have helped me along the way. I am who I am today because of your love and support. I'll never forget your teaching and advice.

All of you are important people to my primary school life. I have learnt so much from every single one of you. I will take these experiences with me to secondary school. Thank you for listening to me today. Goodbye!

5

10

Choose the best answers by blackening the circles.

1. In line 11, the word 'your' refers to _____.

- A. Miss Cheng's
 B. Mr Johnson's
 C. Miss Ho's
 D. all the other teachers'

Q1

Read the previous sentence for some hints.

2. Which is TRUE about the farewell speech?

- A. Iggy wants to thank his parents.
 B. Mr Johnson is an English teacher.
 C. Miss Cheng is the principal.
 D. Iggy is a secondary school student.

3. What might have happened to Iggy before? (Choose more than one answer.)

- A. He was too shy to talk to new classmates.
 B. He performed badly in the English oral exam.
 C. He failed the test and threw the test paper on the floor.
 D. He made new friends in another school.

4.

Complete the table below.

Teachers	Iggy learnt not to...
Miss Cheng	be (a) _____
Miss Ho	lose his (b) _____