Date : _____
Grade : _____

Grammar Notes

Object Pronouns 1

We use object pronouns to refer to people, animals or things. We usually use them after a verb or preposition.

Ellie likes the pretty doll.

Jasper is my cousin.

She wants to buy it.

I am shopping with him.

Grammar Tip

We can use the object pronoun 'you' to refer to one or more than one person.

Subject pronouns → Object pronouns

I → me	We → us	You → you	They → them
He → him	She → her	It → it

Warm-up

A Jasper is looking for Mr and Mrs Fan in a mall. Help him find his way by joining all the object pronouns with a line.

e.g.

us	Ellie	my	I
it	them	her	Jasper
she	his	you	we
he	your	me	him

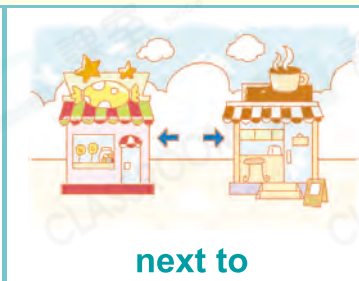

Grammar Notes

Prepositions of Position: between / next to / opposite

We use prepositions of position to show the position of someone or something.

between next to opposite

The sweet shop is between the bakery and the cafe.

next to the cafe.

opposite

the toy shop.

Grammar Tip

When something is 'opposite' another thing, they are facing each other.

Common Errors

- ✓ The bakery is between the sweet shop and the gift shop.
- ✗ The bakery is between the sweet shop.

- The bookshop is between / next to the sports shop and the clothes shop.
- The pet shop is between / next to the shoe shop.
- The library is between the clothes shop to / and the cafe.

Grammar Tip

When we use 'between', we use 'and' to join the two people or things that follow.
