

Unit 17 Blog entry

Understanding one's feelings and attitude

Nick is reading a blog entry about growing plants. Read the blog entry.

Welcome to Oscar's World!

My Sunflowers

Day 1

Today, Mr Tam asks us to grow some plants. My best friend Jake wants to grow fruit. I plan to grow sunflowers. We are excited!

Posted on 5th May, 20XX at 20:55

Day 2

Today, I put three sunflower seeds in a pot of soil. Then, I water the soil. Sunflowers need a lot of water.

Posted on 6th May, 20XX at 18:30

Day 7

I'm still waiting! Where are the flowers? What's wrong? I'm worried!

Posted on 11th May, 20XX at 17:23

Day 10

Good news! I can see some leaves in the pot! Dad asks me to put the pot next to the windows. The plant needs sunlight to grow bigger. He also tells me that plants can make their own food.

Posted on 14th May, 20XX at 19:05

Day 30

Can you believe it? My sunflowers blossom! The flowers are bright and yellow! It is nice to watch the plant grows! I'm glad!

Posted on 3rd June, 20XX at 21:15

Blossom (v.) in the text means 'to produce flowers'. Sometimes blossom (n.) also means 'a flower'.

e.g. The plant starts to blossom (v.). The cherry blossoms (n.) look great.

DAILY-LIFE
ENGLISH

10 mins

DATE

Choose the best answers by blackening the circles.

Tip

Q1: You may not find these words in the text.

1. What does Jake want to grow?

A. roses

B. sunflowers

C. potatoes

D. strawberries

2. How does Oscar feel on Day 7?

A.

B.

C.

D.

3. Who suggests putting the pot near the windows?

A. Mr Tam

B. Jake

C. Oscar

D. Oscar's dad

4. How many days does it take for Oscar's plant to blossom?

A. 9 days

B. 10 days

C. 29 days

D. 31 days

Complete the answers.

5. On Day 10, why does Oscar write 'Good news!'?

It is because he can _____ in the pot.

6. How does Oscar feel when his plant blossoms?

He feels _____.

Fill in each blank with ONE word from the blog entry.

I am so happy for you, Oscar! My plant is not growing well! Let me move it to the balcony so that it can get more 7. _____ . I hope it can

8. _____ like yours!