You and two other members of the Home Economics Club are organising a cooking class. You meet to discuss the points for the cooking class.

In your discussion, you may include:

- when and where to have the cooking class
- who will teach the class
- what food students can learn to cook
- how much students need to pay
- how many students can participate
- how to tell other students about the cooking class
- any other important details

You may begin by saying:

We are going to organise a cooking class for our schoolmates soon. When shall we have the cooking class?
