In Hong Kong, you might have heard of a charity organisation called 'World Vision'. However, when you check online, you will find that it is not an organisation which is just in Hong Kong, but an international one. It is in over one hundred countries. Hundreds of thousands of children benefit from it.

The aim of World Vision is to help the poor in many countries by giving them food, medicine and other necessities. To join World Vision, you just have to donate a little money to sponsor a child. If you are interested, you can find out about it and sponsor a child too!
