Unit 8 The extra days off (p.67)

If you had the opportunity to create a new public holiday, what would it be?

Write an article of about 150 words to describe this holiday and explain why you want to create it.

In this fast-paced era, where society is rapidly advancing, many people find themselves overwhelmed with work or school. People are more likely to experience mental health issues caused by stress and fatigue. However, life is a journey of exploration and self-discovery. That is why, if I were to create a new public holiday, I would propose 'Exploring Day'.

The essence of Exploring Day is to allow everyone to break free from their daily routines and venture out into the world. On this day, people can escape their offices or rooms and immerse themselves in new experiences. So, what can we do on this holiday?

- Go climbing or camping to get closer to nature.
- Visit the countryside to experience rural life.
- Go to the space museum to explore the wonders of the cosmos.
- Visit the history museum to appreciate historical artefacts.
- Go to a chocolate factory to explore the process of chocolate-making.

We need an Exploring Day as it caters to everyone. It doesn't matter where you go or what you do. What matters is the feeling of being refreshed. Everyone needs a break from their daily routines, even if it is just for one day.
