My favourite fiction

Write a review of your favourite fictional story in about 150 words.

My favourite fictional story is Alice in Wonderland, written by Lewis Carroll and published in 1865. It follows the adventures of a girl named Alice, who falls into a strange and silly world after following a rabbit down a rabbit hole.

There's a particular part of the story that impresses me the most. One day, the Cheshire Cat guides Alice to the Red Queen's tea party. However, when the Red Queen has control over the underground world, the timid Cheshire cat abandons his friends, putting them in danger. Fortunately, when accused by the Mad Hatter, the Cheshire Cat gathers the courage to shift his ground. Finally, he regains the respect and trust of his friends.

Personally, I like the Cheshire Cat best. Although he had betrayed his friends, he made up for his mistake in the end. I admire his vibrant personality, and the story serves as a reminder: we all makes mistakes, what truly matters is having the courage to admit them and correct them.

In short, I can't help marvelling at the power of the words in this book. If you're interested, I highly recommend giving it a read! I believe you'll be impressed.
